SKIP-YEAR TAX PLAN CRITICIZED

House Group Likens Proposal to "Robbing Peter to Pay Paul Bonus"

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The House ways and means committee, in a majority report outlining the administration's new tax collection plan, today sharply criticized the counter-proposal for skipping 1942 levies as "like robbing Peter to pay a bonus to Paul."

"To forgive any taxpayer one year's taxes means that the debt that he has already incurred and owes to the government must be borne by some other taxpayer, who may in some instances be less able to pay than the taxpayer whose debt is forgiven," the report said.

Issued over the signature of Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, it offered a preview of the bitter fight anticipated next week between administration supporters and backers of the Ruml plan over just how taxes shall be collected and whether the 1942 taxes will be dropped in order to get the nation's tax payers on a pay-as-you-earn basis.

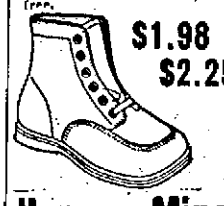

A minority report, wrapping up the views of several Republican members of the committee who have endorsed the Ruml proposal for turning the hands of the tax clock ahead a year, is expected to be filed Sunday.

"We are now faced with the most frightful war in the history of the world," declared the majority report under a section entitled "should $10,000,000,000 of taxes be forgiven?"

"This is no time for experiment. We must make every effort to raise all the revenue the economy of this country can reasonably bear by true and tried methods. Every effort should be made to encourage taxpayers to pay as much tax on their current income as they desire.

"But those who do not desire to make such advance payments should not be forced to do so. In a great many instances, the payments of more than one year's taxes in the same year will constitute a severe hardship."

PRESIDENT HAS COLD

Postpones Meeting With Labor Leaders

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Because of a slight cold, President Roosevelt today postponed an engagement with labor leaders protesting the War Labor Board's contonued use of the Little Steel formula in passing on wage increases.

The labor "victory board," composed of representatives of the AFL, CIO and railway brotherhoods, was asked to put off its call until early next week.

A Presidential secretary said the Chief Executive had what the doctor called the beginnings of a little head cold and had been advised to remain away from his office and take things easy over the weekend.

EDEN TO CONFER WITH LA GUARDIA

Lord Halifax Accompanies Foreign Secretary to New York City

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, here for a weekend visit, was to confer today with Mayor F. H. La Guardia.

Eden, accompanied by Lord Halifax, British ambassador, arrived in New York Friday night from Washington, and both men were guests at the home of Ogden Reid, president of the New York Herald Tribune.

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's week of Washington conferences today appeared to have focused diplomatic attention on Soviet - American relations—with particular reference to the Anglo-Russian pact he negotiated last year.

The question generally posed is whether similar pacts—avoiding precise blueprint of post-war borders—are in the offing between all the western democracies and Russia.

Eden arrived here just after Vice President Wallace had warned that without a "satisfactory understanding" between the western democracies and Russia a third world war would be inevitable. With the diplomat was William Strang, assistant undersecretary of state and one of Britain's foremost experts on Russia.

Immediate interest in the pact signed by Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov 10 months ago was heightened by London commentators, who suggested the former might find opportunity in Washington to promote closer relations between Russia and the United States.

R. I. ARMY FLIER HURT

MEMPHIS, March 20 (AP)—Army officials today announced the names of seven army airmen who were injured Friday when their medium bomber crashed inside the Memphis City limits, strewing outhouses, trees and telephone lines in its path.

Lieutenant Earl James Bass, pilot of Greenville, S. C., and Lieutenant W. E. Livengood, co-pilot, of Johnstown, Pa., were the most seriously injured. Suffering lesser hurts were: Private Bart Terrill, Jr., engineer, of McKinney, Texas, Sergeant Aaron Stack of Philadelphia, Pa., Lieutenant Noel Learned of Monroe, La., Lieutenant Paul Williams of Oakland Beach, R. I., and Lieutenant Al Friedman, navigator, of Los Angeles.

GETS NAVY GOLD STAR

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Commander Frank W. Fenno, Jr., whose submarine carried a huge amount of gold, silver and securities out of the Philippines before Corregidor fell, has been awarded a Navy Gold Star in lieu of a second Navy Cross for sinking 31,000 tons of Japanese merchant shipping and damaging 15,000 tons more. Fenno received his Navy Cross for the Philippines exploit.

His crew and ship went through all the operations without loss or injury.

GRAZING SERVICE SEES MORE MEAT

Huge Increase Forecast Through Efficient Use of Rangelands, Slaughtering

SALT LAKE CITY, March 20 (AP)—The United States grazing service proposed today to add 152,000,000 pounds of meat to the nation's larder through more efficient use of Western rangelands and by slaughtering some wild game animals and horses.

R. H. Rutledge, grazing service director, outlined the program and its expected accomplishments this way:

Increase production of beef and mutton through maximum stocking of rangelands; yield, 80,000,000 pounds.

Improve forage and water conditions; 17,000,000 pounds.

Thin out herds of wild elk, deer and antelope; 5,000,000 pounds.

Slaughter many of an estimated 100,000 horses running wild on rangelands; 50,000,000 pounds.

The increased yield from the improvement and maximum use of rangeland would be realized annually, he pointed out.

Thinning of wild game herds and slaughtering of unneeded wild horses, although producing only one yield of meat, would result in making additional forage available for domestic livestock.

Surveys indicate there are more than 400,000 elk, deer and antelope grazing on federal rangelands, Rutledge said. They would be thinned carefully so as not to destroy the herds.

The bulk of the 100,000 wild horses are useless, Rutledge explained, adding:

"Care will be taken in the removal of these horses from the range to utilize as many as possible live animals in the pursuits into which they fit. Those used as a food meat supply will be slaughtered and handled in accordance with approved sanitary regulations".

24 NAVY CASUALTIES

Five Listed As Dead, Five Wounded, 14 Missing

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The navy announced today 24 casualties in navy forces, including five dead, five wounded and 14 missing.

This brings to 24,522 the total of navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard casualties reported to next of kin since December 7, 1941. The grand total includes 6,913 dead, 4,630 wounded and 12,970 missing.

One name counted in the dead classification of today's list does not appear on the list because, the navy stated, the next of kin resides in a foreign country.

The casualties announced today included no Rhode Islanders.

MARKET SELLING SLOW

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Rail stock re-gained their equilibrium in today's market, after a further early decline, and selling dried up appreciably elsewhere.

Friday's setback was extended by fractions to a point or more at the opening but offerings were notably slack and prices soon began to stiffen in most categories. While trends were definitely irregular near the close, weakness was a rarity and such advances as appeared generally were in minor fractions.

RED CROSS WAR FUND NEARS $40,000 MARK

Officials Confident Quota Will Be Met

Committee Awaits Returns From Service Bodies, Special Events to Boost Figures

Confident that the $63,000 quota in this city will be reached and exceeded, officials of Newport Chapter, Red Cross, are awaiting the outcome of several efforts today to meet the remainder needed. The figures neared the $40,000 mark today, about two thirds of the goal.

Principal sources of expected revenue are the collections being taken up a civilian committee at the Naval Torpedo Station, by officers assigned at the Training Station and the various military posts in the vicinity. The benefit performance of "Anchors Aweigh" Friday evening at the Paramount Theatre is expected to add materially.

Little Compton, a branch of Newport Chapter, has exceeded its quota, and is continuing to add to the sum in the hope that $4,500 will be raised there. Middletown, also a branch of Newport, will have its donations added to the local figures. Portsmouth and Jamestown have their own chapters.

Francis X. Flannery, vice chairman, said today his estimates, based on previous campaigns, convinced him the Newport quota would be exceeded. The house to house collection was above expectations, and returns from individuals and other sources have been such that Mr. Flannery said he would not be surprised to see it pass the $70,000 mark.

Other amounts received were:

$20—Dr. Norbert V. Zielinski.

$5—Mrs. Alma Anderson, Mrs. Marjorie G. Chapman, Mrs. J. Alton Barker, Mrs. W. J. Underwood, Miss Nancy Ebbs.

Mrs. Dallas Wait, chairman of the War Fund collectors' division stationed at the banks and post offices, has announced that Mmes. R. W. Fleming, Harold Sands, Thomas C. Ragan and Joseph W. Crawford will give additional time at the branch post office Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

ELECTRIC CORPORATION LISTS OIL SAVINGS

Officials Study Possible Conversion to Coal

Del Sesto Warns Lifting of Kerosene Restriction Does Not Mean Plentiful Supply

The Newport Electric Corporation has been cooperating with the OPA the past few months, saving one third its normal oil consumption, William P. Sheffield, president of that corporation, said today in response to the OPA announcement banning oil burning generators to produce electric power.

Mr. Sheffield said the whole matter of converting from oil to coal is under consideration, and has been for some time. The corporation, he said, has not room to store coal in the quantities needed at the local plant.

As the result of conferences with the OPA, the Newport Electric Corporation had purchased much of its power from Fall River the last three months, Mr Sheffield said. What more can be done will be the subject of further studies by the company's officials, he added.

J. C. Earle McLennan, general manager of the corporation, said today that engineers had been looking over the local situation to determine if the plant could be converted to coal.

The OPA order bans the use of fuel oil for such purposes after April 5, excepting under certain conditions. These concern proof that no alternate source of power is available from some other generator which does not burn oil, or that differences in frequency or other technical differences prevent the use of alternate power.

Lifting of the kerosene sales restriction Friday night by the regional OPA office brought the admonition today from Christopher Del Sesto, state OPA director, that dealers selling more than 25 gallons to a customer at one time must return to a lower price.

Del Sesto pointed out that the restriction removal does not mean there is a plentiful supply and dealers should continue their efforts to take care of all consumers even if it means limiting their sales.

Soviet Forces Struggle To Hold Lines Along Donets; British Warships Shell Jap Positions In Burma

WAVELL'S TROOPS DRIVE DOWN COAST

Allied Airmen Continue Attacks on Bases North of Australia

[By The Associated Press]

British warships laid down a fire-belting barrage on Japanese positions Friday in the Donbaik area, in Burma, a communique said today, and vanguards of Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's forces, driving down the coast, "made progress" toward the town of Donbaik itself.

Donbaik lies near the tip of the Mayu peninsula, just north of the big Japanese base at Akyab, on the Bay of Bengal.

British headquarters said numerous fires were started in the naval bombardment and declared that Japanese shore batteries inflicted "neither damage nor casualties" in attempting to break up the assault.

"East of the Mayu river, our positions have been maintained and in the past 24 hours there has been no important change in the situation" the British command said.

Japanese infiltration tactics east of the Mayu river, which separates the peninsula from the mainland, had previously forced the British to withdraw north of Rathedaung, 25 miles above Akyab, and threatened to cut off British forward troops along the coast.

In the Southwest Pacific, General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported continuing Allied aerial attacks against a 2,000-mile arc of Japanese bases above Australia, with bombing and machine-gunning attacks from the Banda sea to New Britain.

A communique said United Nations' airmen ranging over New Guinea caught a Japanese submarine unloading supplies in Lae harbor last night and destroyed it with four direct bomb hits.

Despatches said it was believed that the Japanese were now resorting to submarines to run supplies to their garrisons in upper New Guinea, fearful of Allied air power since the recent destruction of a 22-ship Japanese convoy in the Bismarck sea.

The Japanese, however, were showing a marked increase in air strength and yesterday sent 18 bombers, escorted by 32 fighters in a daylight raid on Porlock harbor, New Guinea, 50 miles below the old Buna battle sector on the Papuan peninsula.

A communique said the enemy planes dropped 70 bombs, damaging a wharf and a launch, but there were no casualties.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 20 (AP)—American infantry and armor organized their positions at Gafsa and El Guetar, only 60 miles from Marshal Erwin Rommel's coastal road lifeline, and set the stage for what may be one of the biggest battles of the Tunisian campaign today.

A March downpour—that turned the plains into slick bogs too soft for tanks—kept motionless, however, the forces of Lieutenant General George S. Patton, Jr., and dust storms at the southern end of the front where General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th Army was poised before the Mareth Line held activities at a minimum there.

An RAF source today described the enemy's position in Tunisia as the shape of a man's head, stretching down the Mareth Line and with Allied airforces gripping the throat and ready to squeeze.

[By Roger Greene, Associated Press War Editor]

Bayonet-charging troops of General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army were reported today to have won new ground in the Mareth Line zone, while on the central Tunisian front the Americans slogged ahead through torrential rains and mud from their bloodless capture of El Guetar.

Italian headquarters asserted that Colonel General Jurgen von Arnim's Axis forces had captured "an important position" in northern Tunisia and that the British 1st Army had suffered "serious losses" in several days of bitter fighting.

Allied headquarters announced Friday that the British 1st Army had withdrawn from the village of Aamera, 45 miles southwest of Bizerte, and repulsed two Axis attacks on the 1st Army's new line.

The Fascist communique said Allied losses included 1,000 prisoners, 16 tanks, 30 guns and 70 vehicles.

The Allied-controlled Algiers radio reported fresh gains by the British 8th Army, but frontline despatches said General Montgomery's long-awaited grand assault on the Mareth fortifications was still delayed.

Meanwhile, a Morocco radio broadcast quoted General Henri Giraud, the French commander-in-chief, as saying:

"I am convinced Gafsa marks the beginning of an offensive which will go on as far as Berlin."

General Giraud said he was present when American troops captured the town Wednesday after a 30-mile advance.

A communique from General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said the whole Tunisian front was quiet, with nothing to report from the Mareth zone.

"In the Fasa and El Guetar area, where heavy rain is still falling, our troops continued to consolidate their positions," the communique said.

El Guetar lies 73 miles from the port of Gabes and only 60 miles from the coastal road.

GERMANS MOVE UP MORE TANKS

Spring Mud May Soon Bog Down Land Fighting in Russia

MOSCOW, March 20 (AP)—The Red army still struggled today to hold its defense lines along the twisting northern Donets river east and southeast of Kharkov against the increasing number of German tanks, men and planes being poured into this area, many of them apparently being brought up through Kharkov.

In spite of unfavorable weather conditions, however, the Russians said they had driven steadily forward in the offensive for Smolensk and had gained another town after vicious street fighting in the Staraya Russa area.

Despatches to Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, declared that advances along the Dnieper River front now had virtually cleared the enemy out of every sector along the river from its source down toward the Vyazma-Smolensk railway and that, driven westward, the Germans now were laying mines over a wide area to steam the Red army push.

With spring mud bogging down the entire area, however, it was thought that soon only air forces would be able to function normally.

The Soviet noon communique did not disclose whether the Germans had been able to cross the upper Donets where the Russians still held some positions on the western shore. But as the Red army continued its slaughter of German infantrymen and rapid-fire riflemen who charge across the thin ice of the still-frozen Donets, the Germans brought more and more men to the battle line, it was reported.

The German death toll was said to be mounting steadily.

Both sides are aided in the night fighting by the present full moon which lights up the ice over the Donets and aids the Red army in blasting the Germans' many nocturnal efforts to cross the river and dig in on the eastern bank.

On the other hand, the German air force makes night flights by its light, bombing Russian positions.

RETIRED OFFICER HURT

First Husband of Duchess Found In His Home

SANTA MONICA, Cal., March 20 (AP)—Earl Winfield Spencer, identified by a navy officer as the first husband of the Duchess of Windsor, was found by his present wife early Thursday lying on the floor of their home with a two-inch cut on his chest, Police Officer Lester Redes said Friday.

Spencer, retired naval officer, was taken to the naval hospital in Long Beach in poor condition, said Navy Captain William H. Michael, commanding officer of the Long Beach Naval Hospital.

Police Chief Clarence E. Webb said he had been informed that Spencer explained merely that he had "Fallen against a knife."

SPELLMAN UNHURT

Archbishop in Motor Crash on Arrival in London

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, who has flown safely from the United States to Italy, to North Africa and to Britain, was involved in a minor motor car crash a few minutes after his arrival in London today from Algiers. He was not injured.

The limousine in which he was leaving Paddington Station collided with a parked automobile on the station's exist runway. The archbishop, military vicar of United States armed forces, was jolted. A tire blew out and a wheel and a fender were damaged.

The archbishop was transferred to a United States embassy car driven by a girl chauffeur.

IRISH NATIONALISTS FLEE

20 Internees in Londonderry Prison Escape to Eire

BELFAST, March 20 (AP)—Twenty Irish Nationalist internees escaped from Londonderry prison through a tunnel early today and sped across the border into neutral Eire in a furniture truck, after cowing border guards with a submachine-gun.

Engineering the biggest jail break in the history of Northern Ireland, the prisoners crawled through a 30-foot tunnel stretching from the prison yard to a coal shed of a house outside the walls, then dashed one at a time to the waiting van.

At the border village of St. John, about six miles from the prison, their driver produced the gun and forced the guard to let them cross the frontier. The truck later was found abandoned.

USO OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD MARCH 28

Officer of National Board to Speak; Committee Hears Reports at Meeting

E. T. Colton of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A., national board, will be the principal speaker at the observance of the National USO Open House, to be held Sunday, March 28 at the Army and Navy Y M. C. A. The announcement of the program was made by John Weiser, chairman of the open house committee, at the board meeting Friday afternoon. Mr. Colton, of the world service committee of the national board, in engaged in relief work for war prisoners.

Miss Emma Belden, soprano, will be the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Erskine McGurley. Plans and programs of the USO organization will be explained, and a general invitation is extended to the public.

Reports were received from Mrs. George Henry Warren, Jr., and Richard C. Adams on the work of the Robinson House. Dr. Norman McLeod reported on health conditions in the city, finding them more satisfactory than in most other centers of war activity.

Charles E. Crocker, delegate of the "Y" to the Two-State conference in Boston last week, gave his report. Wardwell O. Leonard gave a report from the committee which is making a study of the present programs at the service "Y" and the Robinson House. John H. Hodgson, treasurer, read the financial report. James W. Thompson, chairman of the board, presided.

SOURCE OF INSECT COLORS

Brilliant Hues Come From Ridges Reflecting Light

[By H. W. Blakeslee, Associated Press Science Editor]

NEW YORK, March 20—The electron microscope shows that the iridescent colors of insects come from structures resembling skyscrapers.

There are row after row of ridges, their tops only about a half wave length of light apart, their sides a honeycomb of layers resembling windows, dropping 10 or more stories to the base.

Even this base is not yet street level on the insect skyscrapers, for the skyscrapers stand on top of arches, which strikingly resemble artists' drawings of future American cities.

There is no color in any of these insect structures. The brilliant hues all come from the action of the ridge tops in breaking up light and reflecting it in rainbows.

Truman Body to Investigate Quality of Plates Sold to U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Chairman Harry S. Truman, Democrat, Missouri, of the Senate war investigating committee announced Friday that the committee will hold a hearing next Tuesday on the quality of certain steel plate supplied to government agencies by the United States Steel Corporation.

He added that "several" witnesses had been subpoenaed. Testimony will be heard, he said, from both officials and employes of the corporation.

J. Lester Perry, president of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, in a statement issued Friday, said that his company welcomed any inquiries regarding the quality of steel plate produced.

WALLACE TO VISIT PANAMA

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 20 (AP)—Vice President Henry Wallace of the United States was to conclude his three-day visit to Costa Rica today with an airplane tour of banana and coffee plantations and inspection of a model dairy farm on the slopes of Irazu volcano.

He planned to go from here to Panama for an official reception Monday. He visited Panam briefly and informally on his way here to inaugurate his tour of South American countries.

COMMITTEE REPORTS ON R. I. MEAT PROBE

Senate Group Lists "Black Market" Activities

State Purchasing Agent Forced To Go To Chicago To Buy Supplies

Submission of the Sweeney committee's preliminary report of its investigation into "meat-legging" in Rhode Island brought the disclosure in the senate Friday that the state purchasing agent was compelled to "go to Chicago and bargain with the packers" before he was able to buy meat needed for state institutions.

The statement was made by Senator William B. Sweeney, Republican, Warwick, chairman of the committee, who said that even when the packers agreed to service the state institutions, the meat was sold dressed and quartered at far higher prices than when it was bought in carcass form.

Submission of the report brought some criticism from Senator William G. Troy of Providence, Democratic floor leader, that certain aspects of it appeared to be political. Sweeney and Senator Raymond A. McCabe of Providence, Democratic member of the committee, denied this and the report was finally accepted unanimously. The senate ordered it printed in full in its daily journal.

Troy said the report inferentially made an attack on the controlling party when it blamed both the OPA in Washington and laxity of state departments for "black market" activities. The report, signed by three Democratic and four Republican members of the senate, charged that while the quota has been set by OPA at 70 per cent, only 45 per cent of 1911 shipments of meat is being received in Rhode Island. It said also that black market activities include illegal slaughter and sale of unclean and diseased meat. It proposed enactment of remedial state legislation and stricter enforcement of present state laws.

Troy said he concurred with most of the report but "the only thing I don't like is the frequent reference, which seems rather political, the frequent criticism of Washington and the state government."

FORAND HAS TAX PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Both the Ruml plan to by-pass an entire tax year and the Ways and Means Committee "no abatement" bill were denounced in the House Friday as measures designed to benefit the wealthy.

Meanwhile Representative Aime J. Forand, Democrat, Rhode Island, announced he would offer a compromise pay-as-you-go proposal to abate the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent surtax on 1942 income of all taxpayers. This would erase the total 1942 tax obligation for 90 per cent of taxpayers and transfer them to a current basis, Forand said.

SERVICE "Y" HAS DANCE

The weekly square dance held at the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. Friday night, drew a large assembly of service men and junior hostesses. Mrs. Ray Swift, assistant activities secretary, was in charge. Gale Gesue, U. S. N., called the numbers of the square dances. Virginia reels and schottisches were directed by Miss A. deBethune and Miss Julia Porcelli.

IN MEMORIAM

1938—Charles P. Holley, Sr.—1943
5 Years Ago Today

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and still the heart
That loved us well and true.
Ah! Bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.

You are not forgotten, loved one
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

Sadly Missed By

FARMERS PLAN HUGE CROPS

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — A nation-wide survey indicates that American farmers will plant 10,000,000 more acres of food and feed crops this year than in 1942, when production records were smashed, the Federal Crop Reporting Board reported Friday.

This indicated increase of 3.5 per cent in acreage, in the face of shortages of manpower and implement and other difficulties, was termed "gratifying news" by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

MINERS MAKE OFFER

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—The negotiating committee of the United Mine Workers of America offered today to extend until May 1 negotiations for a new contract in the Northern and Southern Appalachian soft coal areas, providing any agreemet reached would be retroactive to April 1.

The proposal, signed by John L. Lewis, UMW president, was described by a union spokesman as a move to avert a stoppage of mining should no agreement be reached before March 31.

under Lieutenant General George S. Patton, Jr., were reported driving eastward toward the narrow and exposed coastal flank of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa Corps above the Mareth Line after a 42-mile advance in two days.

Rough mountain country, floods, gluey mud and rain, as well as hundreds of land mines planted by the retreating Germans, impeded the American advance, however, and bad weather also checked Allied aerial operations.

FRENCH WORKERS RESIST

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—A communique broadcast Friday by the Vichy radio acknowledged resistance to the German roundup of workers in the Haute Savoie district, declaring "some hundreds young men misguided by Communist and De-Gaullist agents tried to evade their duties and took to the mountains."

Neutral Swiss reports from the district which lies just beyond the Swiss frontier had told of 5,000 to 8,000 dissidents taking to the brush to avoid the draft. They are said to be led by General Cartier, of the former French army, and well armed with rifles, machine guns and even 75-mm cannon.

CONFERS ON BEACH

Charles Nagy, who has the restaurant concession at Easton's Beach for the coming season, has returned to New York after conferring Friday with Mayor Herbert E. Macauley, members of the Beach Commission, John J. Murphy, superintendent, and other city officials. He has filed in the city clerk's office a statement that he is the sole owner of the business carried on under the name of the Easton's Beach Casino and Restaurant.

WILLIAM BRADDOCK DIES

William J. Braddock of 10 Brinley street died at his home this morning after an illness of two weeks. He was born in Pompton, N. J., and was employed by the Nicholson File Company in Providence for 52 years. Since his retirement 13 years ago, he had lived in Newport.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lillian McGrath Braddock.

COLLAPSE KILLS FIRE CHIEF

ST. LOUIS, March 20 (AP)—Joseph W. Morgan, chief of the St. Louis fire department, was trapped and killed in the collapse of a portion of a burning downtown building today. Several other firemen also were trapped and three have been hospitalized.

Chief Morgan was directing the fight against flames that badly damaged a five-story warehouse operated by Goodwill Industries.

POWDER GROUPS FINED

PHILADELPHIA, March 20 (AP)—Fines totaling $16,000 were imposed in Federal Court Friday on E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., and the Atlas Powder Company, both of Wilmington, Del., and two officials of each company, on charges of conspiring to fix prices of commercial explosives, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

All changed their pleas from innocent to no defense.

NAZIS REPORT RED CAPTURES

(By The Associated Press)

WAR REPORTS TELLS EXPERIENCES

Explains Travels in Foreign Areas Are Never DeLuxe Tours

(By Joseph Morton)

SOMEWHERE IN WEST AFRICA, March 20 (AP)—This business of being a war correspondent is often misunderstood. I have it on reliable authority that my friends here consider me a somewhat odd individual who spends nine-tenths of his time looking for a ride someplace else, who always is in a jam with one colonel or another, who knows nothing of military etiquette and diplomacy, and who spends a goodly portion of his time resting up from the ardors of getting material for stories he hasn't yet written.

Well, I have been guilty of hooking rides. I crossed the Atlantic on an American troop-ship, recrossed it on a French battleship and came back in a United States army plane—all free of charge. But on each occasion my mission was a serious one and I worked at least 50 per cent of the time. Moreover, my travels are never a de luxe tour.

For a calm stomach I would much prefer a Staten Island ferryboat to the British destroyer that carried me up the West African coast last September. Even the rowboats at Central Park are superior to the dugout canoes used to cross the river of Liberia. As for the United States army's jeep—it is a wiry little machine built for service, not comfort. My back still aches from a 200-mile journey between Bathurst and Dakar in one last December.

Hiking up the Cavally river in Liberia— the time I walked from 7 a. m. until 2 p. m.—I was going strong until some natives appeared carrying a freshly-killed python. Then my legs gave out unexpectedly, and I decided, in the interests of true reporting, to find just how it feels to be hearried in a hammock by eight bearers. It feels wonderful.

They tell me I blundered by calling on President Edwin Barclay of Liberia, while soaking wet and in my shirtsleeves. My answer is that I didn't know it could rain so hard and that I had no coat. Besides, the president chuckled and even apologized for his country's unpleasant weather.

Other of my friends insist that my interest in learning to fly an airplane is "deadly," but I hold no malice against the pilot who let me take the stick for awhile, then suddenly grabbed it away and frightened me to death by screaming:

"What are you trying to do—crash?"

I told him I had my eye squarely on the horizon indicator and that we were sailing along at a perfectly even keel. I certainly had no way of knowing that the darn thing didn't work, and that we had lost 300 feet in a few seconds.

I really do not mind if my West African friends smile and call me "Jumping Joe" because, if worst comes to worst, I still will have James on my side. He is my Gold Coast house boy who, when my choice room in the barracks was re-assigned to a major, locked the door and kept him out until I returned. Some day soon I am going to give James a raise. He is getting three shillings a week now, the same as the other house boys, but I am going to hike it up to a dollar.

TO VIEW STREET LIGHTS

Harry Freeman, state dimout marshal, will be here with his consultants Tuesday night to inspect the new street light shields to see if they solve the lighting problem in Newport, Cornelius C. Moore, member of the governor's executive committee on Civilian Defense, announced today.

NEWS BRIEFS

More men are said to be color blind than women.

According to a navy custom, submarines never cross the equator but always dive under it.

All animal and plant life is believed to contain glycerine in some form.

MORE MEAT PROMISED FOR NEXT WEEK HERE

Tiverton Slaughter House Granted Permission To Exceed Normal Quota

With the promise of state and city officials that more meat would be available for this section the coming week, Newport experieiced what was believed to be an all-time low on meat supplies the present weekend. Permission has been granted, it was said, to a Tiverton slaughter house to exceed its normal quota, with the proviso the extra meat would be used exclusively in the Newport market.

Every cattle slaughterer in the county, with the exception of those slaughtering for home consumption, must register with the County War Board, it was announced.

WAVELL'S TROOPS DRIVE DOWN COAST

communique reported that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies had crushed a Japanese counter-attack launched after the retreat of eight enemy columns south of the Yangtze river.

The Japanese, who crossed the river on a 100-mile front, started their counter-offensive Thursday, but were driven back in spite of aerial cover.

MacARTHUR ON AIR POWER

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, replying to a message of congratulations from Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal on the sinking of the Japanese convoy in the Bismarck Sea, declared today that the "infinite possibility of strategic applications of air power is not even yet fully understood or comprehended."

"In the proper co-ordination it opened up horizons of application not yet explored," said MacArthur's message.

"Therein lies the way to victory if we have sufficient constructive imagination to seize the opportunity."

PAPER STANDARDIZATION MOVE

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—A drastic program of standardization to conserve paper supplies was recommended to the WPB Friday by representatives of the commercial printing industry.

The recommendations, drafted by a committee of the United Typothetae of America, called for a reduction of about 66 per cent in the number of weights, grades and sizes of paper stock which committee members estimated would result in a saving of 8 to 10 per cent in paper consumption by printers.

LESS GASOLINE

Holders of "A" gasoline coupons received a shock from the announcement by OPA that the value of these had been cut in half, to approximately one and a half gallons each. It was the second and most serious reduction since this way of distributing gasoline had been put into effect. The purpose, of couse, is to help build up fuel oil stocks for the coming winter.

Unless the regulation is changed, the latest restriction will allow 24 gallons of gasoline in four months for pleasure driving. That simmers down to six gallons a month, or 90 miles, at best, for 30 days. This cuts it down to three miles a day, which is not very far to go in an automobile.

There had been hope that, with the arrival of warmer weather, the OPA might see its way clear to raise rather than lower the value of the gasoline coupons that had started out as being worth four gallons each. Many motorists have been using "A" coupons in their work. They will be forced to apply for supplementary rations.

With last winter's experience in mind, and with greater need for gasoline and fuel oil for the fighting forces in Africa and elsewhere, the OPA is fitting its limitation on pleasure driving to what is believed to be the country's needs. Primarily these needs are for war. After that must come essential driving, followed last of all by pleasure driving.

The gallon and a half value for pleasure driving coupons is probably more of a hardship to those accustomed to using their cars for occasional trips than the high point value that has been placed on many canned goods. To drivers who abide strictly by their "A" rations, it is a constant surprise to see so many cars on the roads at all times.

In the recent period when pleasure driving was prohibited, it is no secret that many used their cars for other purposes than for essential business or shopping. When the OPA decided to put motorists on their honor, rather than have inspectors tag cars, there was a marked increase in the number of cars to be seen. It is apparent that some will be governed by compulsion of the law and by that only.

If OPA can cut the value of "A" coupons to its new low level, it can reduce it to no value at all, which would end all pleasure driving. If that should become necessary, it will just have to be taken in stride. At the same time, though, OPA should do what it can to convince drivers who lose the use of their cars that other requests for gasoline which are granted are really legitimate.

JAPAN'S SHIPPING LOSSES

Japan, most of all the Axis powers, depends on merchant shipping to carry on the war. Germany and Italy are both blockaded by Great Britain, and few, if any, of their merchant craft are on the high seas. With Japan, though, it is markedly different. That nation has made wide conquests since its attack on Pearl Harbor, and needs ships to maintain them.

It is for this reason that Secretary Knox' summary of merchant shipping losses by Japan was of particular interest. Since that fateful December 7, 1941, the Japanese have lost 1,857,000 gross tons out of an original total of 6,369,000. This country has sunk about a third of Japan's merchant fleet.

If that loss were net, the proportion would be better than it really is. Actually, the Japanese through seizing foreign built craft, through new shipbuilding, and through salvaging sunken vessels have been able to cut their shipping losses approximately in half. It still has a formidable merchant fleet, which, though, remains vulnerable.

What Japan has a marked advantage in is distances. It has interior lines of communication, as opposed to the United States, which must travel a long way just to be near the enemy. While it is obvious that Japan cannot outbuild the United States, it must be kept in mind that our country really has two wars on its hands instead of one.

The United States is confronted with the job of either sinking more ships of the Japanese or building more than they can, while at the same time we must take care of the greater shipping needs in the Atlantic, on the way to Africa, Great Britain and Russia. In this area the loss of the United Nations in shipping is and has been serious and may grow worse.

Having looked at all this as it is, we can say the figures of Secretary Knox show that the United States has been able to make a sizeable impression on Japan's merchant fleet. To take it for granted that the ratio will continue as favorable to us is what they call wishful thinking.

Admiral Yarnell, who has been at the forefront in warning this country of Japan's strength, insists she remains a strong, wily foe. He called her war planning excellent, and her campaign "one of the most remarkable in history." The admiral does not agree to naming Pearl Harbor a sneak attack. He says bluntly our forces should have been ready.

With equal bluntness, it should be said that the Japanese are a long way from being defeated. They have been whipped, mostly in defensive engagements, such as at Midway and in the Coral and Bismarck Seas. They are in force at strategic points, and will probably take all this country can spare to give before they are decisively beaten.

CIVIC MUSIC WEEK

The Newport Civic Music Association's annual membership drive will be held next week. The Civic Concert Service, the parent organization, already has a representative here, and an increase in membership is looked forward to. This is not just wishful thinking, either; it is based on the fact that similar campaigns in other parts of the country have shown increases.

Preparatory plans for the campaign have been mapped out by local officials. Reports show that first responses have been very good. That is a good sign for final success. As usual, there will be an office in the Chamber of Commerce, and a dinner is planned to start things on Monday night.

Not only those deeply interested in music, but those who look upon it rather casually and there are such people—have found that it has a bearing on war work. Instead of being a probably useless diversion, as some may have been inclined to think, it is a great spirit builder among the armed forces, and in civilian ranks as well.

Perhaps that is one reason why there have been gains in membership in such campaigns throughout the country as the one to be made here. People generally, beset with the talk of war, rationing, the troubles of today and the possible trials of tomorrow, seem to have found in music the relief and recreation that they have not been able to get in the usual ways of entertainment.

The attitude of the men in arms has been clear here ever since before the war broke out. There have been demands from them for music of the best kind, not just for the current jazz and swing and the popular songs of the day. They have been interested in the type of music that has made the local association so successful, music of the highest quality.

There may be Newporters who feel they do not particularly care for music. They could do a good turn by buying memberships and turning them over to those who will see that they reach a service man who is interested. Others who do like music may find it possible to buy additional memberships and make them available for men in the armed forces.

Doing this would be more than helping make the local campaign a success. It would be helping out the war through making some of our fighting men happy.

When Mark Wilson, theatre executive of Philadelphia, became ill, friends sent lots of fragrant flowers. But the gift that really made his nostrils twitch, he said, came from Florence Bernard, actors' representative. It was a two-inch beef steak.

Mrs. Cecelia Carr of Portland, Ore., sat in her office thinking about the young robber who took $15 out of the till the day before. She glanced up and saw the same young man. He repeated his act. This time the loot was $5.

PROXY KISS PLEASES

BOSTON, March 19 (AP)—Pretty blue-eyed Mary Doherty received an "oh, so nice kiss," by proxy from New Caledonia today.

When her brother, Bill, left New Caledonia for Guadalcanal, he designated his buddy, Howard Moulton, to deliver the kiss to Mary. Moulton was scheduled to return home on account of illness.

And Moulton's reaction was: "Bill's sister is oh,—so nice to come home to."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From Mercury of March 16, 1918.

Schools, closed since the first of the year, were scheduled to reopen as coal supplies increased and the fuel was issued to various buildings. Rogers High had reopened previously.

A barber shop on the street floor of a building on lower Thames street was gutted and tenements above were damaged by a fire. Box 411 was sounded. A still alarm was sounded during the week, when a gasoline tank, under repair, exploded at the F. A. Watson tinsmith shop on Touro street. Robert Bancroft, who was soldering the tank, received burns.

Colonel Alvin A. Barker was traveling through the state organizing units of the state guard in anticipation of an enabling act being passed by the legislature which would provide them with quarters and equipment.

Several coal barges arrived at local docks and dealers reported that the fuel situation had returned to a normal basis.

Miss Edith Mae Tilley was re-elected vice regent of the state Daughters of the American Revolution. Donald E. Spears was elected thrice illustrious master of DeBlois Council of Masons, and William H. Sisson, exalted ruler of Newport Lodge of Elks.

The Representative Council passed an ordinance directing the aldermen to purchase coal for all city departments. The board's communication requesting a plan to refund liquor license fees was received. A special meeting was called to consider the Coddington Point matter, including possible purchase for the use by the government. The annual budget was adopted with additions of $500 for the Farm Bureau, $150 each for school eye examinations and repair of the police patrol and $45 for the Aquidneck Park comfort station.

The School Committee voted to omit the Easter vacation and to extend the school year to June 28 so that work lost by closing during the fuel shortage might be partially made up. Plans were made for graduation July 1 and promotions July 2. In addition, the committee extended sessions for the lower grades.

Notice was issued that under a new state law all classes were required to have an average of 20 minutes of physical education daily.

The resignation of Miss Rowena McLellan as a teacher was received.

Mayor Clark Burdick was in New York to receive a decoration from the Emperor of Japan.

R. I. WINS IN COURT

As the result of a decision by the California supreme court, Rhode Island has won out over that state in being permitted to assess an inheritance tax on the $500,000 estate of a woman who died there more than two years ago. Rhode Island, according to the court ruling, is entitled to the inheritance tax of $37,415 on the estate of Winifred R. Morris, who, at the age of 63, was adopted as the ward of her uncle, John F. Morris, of Providence. Before the death of his niece, who was beneficiary, Mr. Morris moved to California, dying there at the age of 93 about a month after she passed away.

WHEAT BILL GOES TO FDR

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Legislation to permit the sale of 100,000,000 bushels of government-held wheat to be used as feed by livestock, poultry and milk producers was passed today by the Senate and sent to the White House.

Not a protest was raised when Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, asked unanimous consent for consideration of the legislation and Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, the minority leader, joined in the request for immediate passage.

Washington Day Book

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — According to the lumber industry, no termites—not even the white ants of Australia, one colony of which can take a two-room house apart overnight—are as voracious for wood as the Army, Navy and War Production Board.

The lumbermen quote the Army in saying that in actual tonnage, food is the only product in greater demand that wood. This year's call on the industry is 120,000,000 tons, while the peak estimates of wartime needs for steel run in the neighborhood of 100,000,000 tons.

Where does it all go?

When we were only preparing for war, lumber was needed for barracks, mess-halls, hospitals, and housing. Other vast quantities were demanded for scaffolds on the ship ways.

Wood is also one of the chief materials in our now-famous PT boats, in mine trawlers, patrol boats, barges, and training planes. One of Britain's well-known bombers, the "Mosquito," is made mostly of wood.

Aside from this, much of our domestic and foreign shipping of war supplies moves in wooden crates and boxes.

* * *

THE principal ingredient of nitro-cellulose explosives is cellulose, which comes from the pulp of American trees. It's used in "block-buster" bombs, in depth charges, and even in small arms ammunition. The list of other war uses for wood is almost endless.

Lumbermen say, however, that there's plenty of raw timber and the estimates of the most pessimistic back them up.

Forest industry representatives here give you these figures: In 1941 (anticipating defense needs) they jumped production from 29 billion board feet to 35.7 billions. In 1942, the output dropped to 34 billion.

The decline they lay to losses in manpower, shortages in equipment and unfavorable weather.

* * *

The industry, he says, "yielded 96 per cent as much lumber as in 1941, but did it with 15 per cent fewer workers in industry and 22 per cent fewer workers in the woods."

Perhaps it really isn't strange that a controversy has arisen over the lumber situation. Although lumber has been one of our great industries since the first blockhouse by the first colonists, this is lumber's first war.

In World War I, lumbering wasn't even considered an essential industry. That isn't hard to understand when you think in terms of rubber, high octane gasoline, and the many other things the uses of which have multiplied thousands of times in this all-out global war.

NEW CONVENT BENEFITS FROM ENTERTAINMENT

Substantial Sum Realized To Equip Building For St. Joseph's Sisters

A substantial sum was raised Friday evening for furnishing the new St. Joseph's Convent in the former Eustis Corcoran villa at the the corner of Bellevue avenue and Webster street, as the result of an entertainment given Friday evening in St. Josephs auditorium on Touro street.

The Rev. Edward A. Higney, pastor, said gifts will help substantially to equip the building, which is being renovated. The convent will be used by sisters comprising the faculty at St. Catherine's Academy, in the former Herbert C. Pell villa adjoining.

An Irish playlet presented by students at St. Catherine's Academy was the feature. Father Higney was assisted in welcoming the large gathering by the Rev. Edward Hughes and the Rev. J. Joseph Cooney, his assistants.

Gifts announced included $300 in War Bonds to Miss Marjorie Wilson of 51 Dresser street, $50 to Chester H. Medbery of the Electric Corporation, and $25 each to Jeremiah A. Sullivan, former city solicitor, and Samuel A. Warre.

EL-ALAMEIN

[Panayotis Canellopoulos in The London Sunday Times]

Vice Premier and Minister of National Defense in the Greek government.
Transated from the Greek by Demetrios Capstanskis.

Barbed wire and splinters, melted steel and dead
Wings floating on the sand and still more wire
And tanks that lie forsaken here and there
Like horses with a bullet in the head.

British, New Zealanders, French, Greeks at war,
South Africans, Australians, here wed
Nation to nation mingling sand with blood.
The time of those who fall on this huge shore

Of heaven, called the desert, never passes,
Everywhere crosses and like weird cypresses
Sand-whirls. Down here where Nature was resigned

To being nothing. History was done.
Posterity will say: Here once mankind
Won a new myth. This is El-Alamein.

INDICTED MAN DEAD

The body of a man identified as Frank Nitti (above) was found in a ditch at Riverside, a Chicago suburb. At the same time Nitti, a Capone syndicate boss known as "The Enforcer," was indicted in New York along with several other members of the gang.

TOWN GROUP DISCUSSES STATE GUARD UNIT

Service Officers Speak in Portsmouth; Next Meeting To Be Held Friday

Formation of a State Guard company in Portsmouth was discussed Friday evening at an open meeting in the town hall, with 40 men attending, in addition to the speakers and visitors. Captain William R. Harkin of Company F of this city, attended with 20 members of his company. He was among the speakers.

Lieutenant Colonel James A. Murphy of the State Guard and Captain Walter Slide, U. S. A., were other speakers. The qualifications, duties and needs were explained. Announcement was made that another meeting will be held next Friday evening at the town hall to elect officers.

LAGUARDIA POST HINTED

London Hears Mayor May Go to Africa

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—Foreign diplomatic quarters said Friday that Washington was seeking approval of Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York as wartime civil administrator of occupied Italian territory in Africa.

There was no comment from official sources.

When asked about the report that the United States Government was sounding out the British on the subject of his appointment as a wartime civilian administrator of occupied Italian territory in North Africa, Mayor LaGuardia began to talk about the city's budgetary problems.

GANGSTER SUICIDE

CHICAGO, March 20 (AP)—Frank "The Enforcer" Nitti, chief of the Al Capone syndicate, killed himself Friday five hours after he and eight others were indicted in New York on charge of extorting more than $1,000,000 from movie firms and a labor union.

Police Sergeant William Crowe reported the suave, swarthy racket boss had committed suicide—and thus he "beat the rap."

MANY TICKETS SOLD FOR "ANCHORS AWEIGH"

Artists to Appear In Red Cross Benefit at Paramount Next Friday Listed

With nearly 1,000 tickets sold for "Anchors Aweigh," Red Cross benefit and with indications that there will be a complete sellout before the performance in the Paramount Theatre next Friday evening, arrangements were completed today to give the general public an opportunity to purchase tickets this evening at the Hotel Viking and Sunday evening at the Muenchinger-King.

Schuyler L. Parsons, general chairman of the performance to aid Newport Chapter's War Fund, and Mrs. John R. Drexel, 3d., who has charge of box office sales, will be on duty at the hotels. In the meantime, box offices at the Paramount and 131 Bellevue avenue will continue to be open.

Rehearsals are continuing at the Naval Training Station. The artists include Tony Albert in songs and dances; Raymond Gallagher, U. S. M. C., baritone; Ruggerio & Rosenholtz, piano duo; Ray Horlborgen, concert tenor; Charles Pursell in impersonations of Carman Miranda, assisted by a South American rhumba band, Keigh Benward, tenor, in a George M. Cohan medley.

Jimmy Downs, Jr., local artist, will give imitations; impersonations and mystifications; Frank Gregson and John Wentzel will sing, a stringed quartet of J. Mack, V. Venuto, F. Rodowicz, and E. Ingram will play; "The Sailorettes," 16 "beautiful dancing girls," will appear; Eddie Ingram will sing South American songs; and a concert orchestra and a band will be heard.

Other numbers will be by Dave Balentine, a romantic tenor; Joe Mack, violinist; Dillon & Leesward, a South American dance team; and Charles Pursell, in impersonations of Mae West.

FARMERS ASSURED OF ENOUGH "GAS"

Arrangements Made For Additional Quotas If Needed For Operation

Farmers may schedule their 1943 crops with the assurance of enough gasoline for all necessary truck operations, local fuel supplies permitting, Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, said today.

Such requests for gasoline, load, or mileage adjustment should be made to the farm transportation committees of the USDA county war boards. These committees are composed of the farmers' neighbors, and their recommendations will be accepted by the ODT district offices making the adjustments.

If a farmer's allotment is still insufficient, he may appeal through his farm transportation committee to his ODT district office or directly to the district office. A final appeal can be made to his ODT regional manager. Emergency gasoline rations may be obtained from local war price and rationing boards while requests for adjustment or appeals are being considered.

With the coming of warmer weather, bus and truck drivers should drastically reduce the time their engines idle during stops, the Office of Defense Transportation advised today.

In severely cold weather it was sometimes necessary to idle motor to prevent radiator freezing and crank-case dilution, the ODT pointed out. But now that more moderate temperatures prevail, bus and truck drivers should be careful to turn off their engines during even the briefest of stops, the ODT said.

AUSTRALIAN HERO KILLED

General's Body Found With 2 Others in Plane Wreckage

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, March 20 (AP)—Brigadier General J. W. Crawford, an Australian holder of the Distinguished Service Order who once was acting Australian commander at Tobruk, was found dead with two other Australians in the wreckage of an Allied plane that crashed March 7 in the jungle near a northern base, it was made known today.

Ground searchers, led by a native tracker, found the plane two days after it crashed.

Four days after the crash two survivors were found, one of whom had been able to crawl only 1,200 yards through the dense undergrowth.

(General Crawford's companions were not identified in the despatch).

In February, 1941, General Crawford commanded an air force west of Mersa Brega, in the Libyan desert, and his battalion took the brunt of the attack at Tobruk. In the absence of Lieutenant General Sir Leslie Morshead, he acted as Australian commander at Tobruk.

KAISER HINTS "SMEAR"

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser Friday dismissed, as "merely the latest smear attempts of jealous rivals," the technical charges of priority violations filed against him in San Francisco.

To an interviewer he said: "Due to the fact that we were not permitted to see the subpoena until late this afternoon, and that Donald Nelson tells me he knew nothing of the case, I can only conclude that it was an effort of someone locally (on the West Coast) to smear me.

The construction "wizard" of the West hinted at several new and highly secret projects.

Refreshments were served by the committee members, Miss Alice Monson, Miss Mae Stenhouse, Mrs. Elfreda Harkin, Miss Ada Collings, Miss Dorothy Young and Miss Clara Stanhope. Mrs. John Ostrosky played for community singing.

DEMOCRAT COMMITTEE SCHEDULES MEETING

State Central Body to Name New Chairman to Succeed Roberts

The long-awaited Democratic state central committee meeting at which it is expected a new chairman will be named is scheduled for March 28, it was announced today.

Mayor Dennis J. Roberts, present state chairman, will resign because he is soon to enter the navy and John C. Mullen, of East Greenwich, assistant attorney general who is Roberts' law partner, is reported to have gained sufficient strength to assure his election.

Forces alligned with Mayor Thomas P. McCoy of Pawtucket tried to persuade Daniel J. Ryan, state public works commissioner, to seek the chairmanship, but Ryan declined to be a candidate after conferring with Governor J. Howard McGrath.

The governor and both Senator Theodore Francis Green and Senator Peter G. Gerry are reported agreed on Mullen.

ANGOTT STOPS PEP'S WIN STREAK

Former Champion Back in Running For Shot at Lightweight Title

(By Sid Feder)

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—In addition to operating a knife and fork at dinner-time, a good pair of hands come in handy for other purposes, as Sammy Angott would be glad to tell you today. But now that Sammy's front and center in the lightweight picture again, his chances of getting a crack at clearing up the 135-pound mess are all clouded up in a dollar sign.

For, shortly after Sammy, with "recuperated" hands and looking like two other guys from the methodical Angott of old, walked out and whipped Wee Willie Pep in ten rounds in Madison Square Garden Friday night, Chick Wergeles, who has turned from football publicity to fight-managing of late, announced that he and his gladiator, Beau Jack, want quite a bundle—as much as 40 per cent—to take on the "abdicated" boss of the 135-pounders.

Now, this is quite a rhubarb, as the boys in the 49th street set put it. Angott hasn't been beaten by a lightweight in two years; he retired from the ring and abdicated the lightweight throne because his hands were hurt. And he came back, after weeks of digging ditches and serving as athletic instructor to service men at Washington & Jefferson College, because he thought his hands were good enough for something besides pointing out the sports of interest in Washington, Pa.

He showed his "dukes" were ready for any kind of roughhousing last night by belting Pep all over the place for the first five rounds and hanging on to grab the unanimous decision, thereby not only ending Wee Willie's all-time record string of 62 straight victories, but also entertaining 16,834 of Gus Fan's relatives, and chalking up the biggest beak-busting upset of the year.

This probably will cause the National Boxing Association to tell Sammy to come home—that all is forgiven and that he can have his title back. But the New York State Athletic Commission jumped the gun and recognized Beau Jack as lightweight champion, since Sammy's "temporary" retirement.

But now that the laughable lightweight mess might be cleared up by a Jack-Angott fight, Jack's "front man," Wergeles, popped up today with the decision that he wants 37½ per cent of the gate—"and maybe 40"—for meeting Sammy. Naturally the Hercules is standing on some precedent there, since "champions" usually get 37½ per cent of the gate and challengers accept 12½. But since Sammy has never been beaten by a lightweight since he won the title originally a couple of years ago, you wonder if maybe the Hercules isn't taking something for granted, in spite of the Athletic Commission of the State of New York.

Certainly, Sammy didn't pick on any soft touch in his first come-back waltz. He tangled with the New York-recognized featherweight champion, a kid who'd never been beaten in 62 trips to the post, who was a 1 to 3 shot in the betting and who has been tabbed as the greatest featherweight to come down the pike since Abe Attel. That's a tall order for a guy out of action for six months. And Sammy came back a-wining. Under the terms of the ring game's "treaties," he probably figures to split the "payoff" down the middle. And that's a little financial angle that Mike Jacobs, started to work on today.

CUBS SIGN STU MARTIN

Goodman, Eaves Sent to Minneapolis

CHICAGO, March 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs have grabbed up pipe-puffing Stu Martin and now feel somewhat satisfied they have consolidated their infield before opening spring training at French Lick Monday.

They should know one thing for sure—that the veteran second baseman has a lot of hits left in his bat, simply because he never got them out.

Stu was obtained from Minneapolis of the American Association, when he was shipped late last season by the Pirates in a deal for Shortstop Huck Geary. The Cubs sent the Millers 34-year-old Ival Goodman, one-time star Cincinnati outfielder who was picked up for the waiver price last fall, and Pitcher Vallie Eaves, whose misconduct penalties worried the club no end.

SUNSET LEAGUE TO TAKE APPLICATIONS

Six Hold-Overs From Last Year; Five Others Invited to Seek Berths

Applications from baseball teams desiring to enter the Sunset league should be in the Recreation Office, city hall, prior to the meeting Wednesday night, March 24, according to an announcement made by Daniel J. Kehew, Jr., league president, who at the same time extended the invitation to all service athletic officers in this area.

The Melville Net Depot, Melville, MTB, Naval Training Station, Marine Corps and Coast Guard teams have already been invited to join the league. In addition, there are six hold-over teams from last year.

The U. S. S. Constellation, last years champions, have indicated that they will again be in the league as have the Section Base, Naval Torpedo Station and the 10th Coast Artillery, which may be known this year as Fort Adams.

The MCM and Torpedo Station Civilians are the two civilian teams already known to be getting ready for the season.

BOBBY DOERR GETS SALARY RAISE

Several of Braves Still Unsigned; Dartmouth Draws Tough Cage Foe

[By Bill King]

BOSTON, March 20 (AP)— You should have heard the sigh of relief our Joe Cronin gave when he learned that Bobby Doerr had gained the salary raise he considered his just due...Joey promptly relaxed and went right back to his own idea of spending the 1943 season with an occasional pinch-hitting effort...Cronin happens to be the very tops in that department...And you'll be hearing plenty about his clutch-hitting this season...

Case Stengel dropped in on Cronin's workout Friday but departed in great haste as soon as he heard about Doerr's signing..Case happens to be due to greet the Braves at Choate School in Wallingford, Conn., next Monday...But, sad to relate, he, according to the present nose-count, will see very few Braves of any sturdiness ...No word has been heard from such standouts as Ernie Lombardi, the National League's batting champion; Jim Tobin, the iron-armed pitcher; Maxie West, Nanny Fernandez and Tommy Holmes, the keyman in the infield, Eddie Joost, and several others who continue to ruin Stengel's sleep... These Braves from what we've been hearing, are not going to cause any railroad jams getting to Wallingford on time...

Tommy Filmore, the not too old hockey player, will be holding down the golf pro's job at the Springfield Country Club this season... Bob Miller, Bowdoin's so-good swimming coach for so long, showed up hereabout Friday night without his little sidekick, Johnny Magee...Johnny, Bob explained, is brooding...We don't wonder about that...We've been checking on the scores that the opposition has been piling up on Johnny this season...But, don't weaken, John...We know what you've been up against and, don't bother about it at all, you're still in there swinging...What do you care about a first place if you've taught some kid out there on the front to stay alive with the smart footwork he learned from you!...

According to the advance notices concerning Dartmouth's first start in the N. C. A. A. basketball championship tournament, the Indians have drawn a very tough assignment against Depaul of Chicago...The boys from the wide-open spaces are described as awfully good...They have been, according to some knowing ones, playing much better than collegians should...But Dartmouth has stepped into the big league mud, as we all hope, the Indians will crown all of the happy years Ossie Cowles has spent in their midst with a national title... Won't he be proud to go out for the duration into the navy with that!...

COMMANDO DRILL BRINGS MOANS

Exercises Almost Too Much For Ball Players; Fighters at Air Field

[By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.]

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—It isn't the northern spring weather that is bringing the moans from baseball players these days, but the calisthenics....After the Phillies had a session of Harold Anson Bruce's "commando" exercises the other day, Si Johnson gagged: "That guy is this country's secret weapon."....The first squad of Red Sox found that only Tony Lupien, a muscle-mauler himself, could take it, and Mel Ott complained that he had worked out for three weeks but got sore all over again after a couple of days of setting-up exercises..Mel argues that it proves such exercises are no good for ball players. It might also prove that there'd be fewer charley horses and pulled muscles during the season if the athletes got all their muscles into condition in the spring.

Today's guest star: Carl Bell, Fort Smith (Ark.) Southwest American: "Isn't it remarkable how times change? Notre Dame used to have its four horsemen. Any football team able to scrape up a complete backfield next season will have the 4-F-men."

Jim McNally has retired from the job as superintendent of Madison Square Garden that he has held ever since the place opened.. Dyke Eddleman, who got into just one varsity track meet for Illinois before being called to the army, will get his "I" for breaking the high jump record at the Illinois-Tech relays. Illinois officials figure that's equal to scoring ten points in ordinary competition.. Sign of the times: Bermuda papers are asking for major league baseball schedules so the Yanks there can see them.

Person-alley-ties: Pinky Whitney, former Phillies third baseman, is a big bowling alley operator in San Antonio, Tex., but he admits he's never tossed a ball down the alley and doesn't know how to keep score....Pinky would be just the one to settle the bowling problem presented by Newark's G. A. Falzer....Seems a bowler there got peeved when one pin failed to tumble after he'd rolled five straight strikes. He grabbed another ball and sent it down the alley while the pin still was rocking, missed it cleanly and then, just as the ball smacked into the pit, the pin fell....how would you score it?

Service department: Besides turning out a crack amateur boxing team, Mitchel Field, N. Y., can get up a pro team consisting of Heavyweight George Nicholson, Joe Louis' old sparring partner; Middleweight Max Katz, who won 30 fights around Waterbury, Conn.; Welterweights Ray Robinson, California Jackie Wilson, Adam Flanga (Young Kid McCoy) and Buddy Bailey of New York and Joseph (Ace) Bailey of Jersey City, stars in Golden Gloves bouts; Featherweight Bobby Root of Detroit and Bantamweight Al Gillette of Newark, N. J.....Anybody wanta fight?....If he could keep all his customers, navy Lieut. Vernon (Whitey) Wilshere, former major league pitcher, wouldn't mind going into the insurance business after the duration. As insurance officer at the town pre-flight school, Whitey supervises writing all government insurance for cadets, officers and enlisted men, running to something like $85,000,000 annually.

HUNTER A. C. TOPS GALAHADS 99-98

Sweeney of Losers Hits New Season's High With 53 Points in One Game

The fact that Sweeney of the Galahads scored 53 points in the game with the Hunter A. C. Friday night in Webster gymnasium did not suffice to give them the game which went to the Hunters at 99-98.

Sweeney's total is probably a season's record. For the Hunter team Deffenbach scored 40 points and Parent 22. Vars of the Galahad team had 22 points.

Neither team put up a defense and shots were heaved from any spot on the court.

The lineups:

Hunter A. C.—Deffenbach rf 40; Parent lf 22; Leys c 8; Sullivan rg 10; O'Brien lg 19.

Galahads—Vars rf 22; Sweeney lf 53; Evans lf 4; Hand c 6; Young rg 7; Wendler lg 4.

RUTGERS SWIMMERS LEAD

Threaten to Dominate Intercollegiate Championship

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 20 (AP)—With mighty Yale, the home of most of the East's outstanding swimmers for many years, out of the competition because of travel difficulties, Rutgers today threatened to dominate the Eastern Intercollegiate individual tank championships in the Harvard pool.

And the Rutgers team, a five-man delegation that traveled in Coach Jim Reilly's personal automobile, motored much farther than New Haven to take the spotlight in the meet's opening program. The Scarlet's low-board diver, Ralph Buratti, won his specialty in handy fashion, just before Rutgers won the 300-yard medley relay, thanks to Charlie Gantner, who set up its six-foot victory over a speedy Princeton trio with a brilliant effort in the event's breast-stroke leg.

One of the surprises of the opening competition was the scant six inches triumph gained by Columbia's Gene Rogers, the meet's outstanding favorite, in the 220-yard free style. That Lion, beaten only by Yale's sensational Alan Ford as he won 17 out of 18 dual meet starts this season, was pressed almost to the limit by Jim Ammon of Amherst, who has not seen much competition this season. Rogers touched off in 2:13.3.

KRUPP BRANCH IN KIEV

(By The Associated Press)

The Berlin radio reported today that a factory branch of Germany's giant Krupp steel and munitions works has been established at Kiev, in the Russian Ukraine, to supply the industries of the German-occupied Ukraine, with steel and machines. The main Krupp plants in Germany are in Essen, one of the most bomb-battered cities in Germany.

SAM CITES BABY FOOD

Sees People Raiding Stores for Infants Supplies to Avoid Points

(Written For The Associated Press)

By Spoon River Sam

If grownups start cutting baby teeth and saying nursery rhymes, it won't surprise me none.

Some of 'em have been raiding baby food at the grocery store, and there ain't a baby in their house at all.

We should of knowed that would happen, on account food for babies costs less ration points.

That's people for you. Always looking out for No. 1.

Why I know one middle aged couple that always hated kids but now they're trying to adopt three, providing they're 15 and never heard of coffee, so's they'll have more brew for theirselves.

But imagine a big 200-pound man eating babies' mixed vegetables so's he'll have more points for fruit juices. He ought to be somewhere in the Solomons, with a big part of him sticking out of a foxhole.

Canned dog food don't cost any points at all, so don't be sure prised if people start eating that, too. You'd think some already have, the way they bark and growl over rationing.

DUGAN'S OILERS TOP ARTILLERY CAGERS

Trounce Soldiers 40-20 in Gold Medal Series

MTB Squad Swamps North Ends 61-27 In Game At Y. M. C. A.

Dugan's Oilers refused to be impressed by the athletic record of the 207th Coast Artillery and went about the business of continuing to win basketball games by defeating the soldiers 40-20 Friday night in a Gold Medal tournament game at the Mary Street "Y." In the lead off game, the Melville MTB won over the North Ends with the surprising score of 61-27.

The Industrial league champions had a lead at the half of 22-7 and 30-13 by the end of the third quarter. The Oilers were paced by Andy Morrow and Dennis Sullivan who each scored 12 points. Lehane of the Oilers had nine points.

In spite of the fact that Melville had the advantage in height, the fans were none-the-less puzzled at the ease with which they won from a team that was runner-up in the Industrial League and had in the line-up the Industrial League's top scorers, Ebbitt and Honnen.

Melville had the advantage of being able to reach up and block shot but in addition was surprisingly fast in getting in after rebounds.

Sivess scored 19 points for the MTB team with Baxter and Schwartz gathering in 17 and 14 in that order. Ebbitt could do no better than 11 points while Honnen scored a goose egg.

Tonight the Petroleum Supply will met O'Neill's in a consolation game at 7:30 and at 8:30 Melville MTB will be matched against the Coast Guard. The winner of this latter game will play Dugan's Oilers for the Gold Medal tournament title at 8.30 Monday night.

QUONSET FIVE WINS OVER NET DEPOT

Victors to Play In Service League Finals Next Friday

Quonset Naval Air Station today has a more than favorable chance to win the Rhode Island Service league championship since their capture of first place in the winners' division by virtue of their win over the Melville Net Depot 39-36 Friday night. Next Friday Quonsett will meet the winner of the losers' division for the championship. Friday's game was one of the best seen here and was jammed with action.

The teams were practically on even terms throughout the contest, and were it not for the wildness that characterized the Net's game they might today be the winners. The Air Station players are smart court men and were quick to take advantage of any and all openings. They came in fast and strong for rebounds and worked a fast floor game.

The Nets were ahead at the end of the third period 29-27 after having tailed for the first half although by only a few points. In the first quarter there was only one point difference between the teams and at the half the Nets had fallen to five points in the rear.

In the third quarter the Nets tied the score at 36-all with only one minute to play, when Valek tossed in two free throws. But a burst of aggressiveness on the part of Quonsett turned the tables and gave them the game.

Lieutenant Thomas Lally, U. S. N. R., now stationed in Newoprt, was formerly coach of St. Luke's High of Pittsburgh, the team that St. Basil's beat out for the championship in 1940 in western Pennsylvania.

Gerald McMahon, coach of the Bishop England five, is quite an athlete himself. He takes part in baseball, basketball, softball, football, tennis, marathon racing and swimming. He was a member of the crack Bishop team of 1931, which made such a hit in the Chicago Tourney. Incidently, that year he and his team mates saw snow for the first time.

Jim Runey and Terrance McManus, guard, were chosen on the all-city Charleston scholastic five. These two Bishops are considered tops in the Old South State basketball.

PAIRINGS ANNOUNCED FOR ESCIT GAMES

De La Salle Meets Carolina Team Thursday Evening

La Salle, St. Raphael's to Clash in Opener; Hoyt to Assign Officials

The pairings for the 1943 Eastern States Catholic Invitation Tourney, starting Thursday were announced this morning. The opening game at 3 P. M. finds La Salle High of Cumberland, Maryland, the Old Line State champs, meeting the winner or runner-up of the Boston Catholic Tourney.

At 4 o'clock, La Salle of Providence, the state class A Champions will renew their feud with St. Raphael's Academy of Pawtucket, the state champions.

At 7:30 in the evening, De La Salle, Newport city champions, will meet Bishop England High School, Charleston, S. C.

At 8:30 o'clock, the New Jersey champions, St. Peter's of New Brunswick, will meet the Roman Catholic High School of Philadelphia.

The committee decided to have as many of the teams outside New England play in the evening as possible. The times of games do not agree with the official bracketing, as the DeLa Salle-Bishop England contest is in the upper bracket. The change was made to permit De La Salle to perform in the evening. The winner of the La Salle-St. Raphael's game will meet the winner of the De La Salle-Bishop England High tussle and the winner of the St. Peter's-Roman Catholic High game will meet the winner of the LaSalle, Md., New England winner or runner up, in the semi finals Friday night.

George H. Hoyt, referee in chief, will name officials to handle the opening day games.

DE LA SALLE TRIMS FALL RIVER CAGERS

Takes 62-53 Decision From Blue Devils

Kenney Sets Scoring Pace; Jay Vees Defeat Visiting Second Team

The De La Salle hoop team showed that it is keeping in good trim for the ESCIT play when it defeated the Blue Devils of Fall River 62-53 Friday evening on the Academy court.

The game was no walk-away for the Newporters in spite of a first period advantage of 20-8. In the second period the Bay Staters came back with a rush and tossed 18 points to make the half-time score 29-26, but with the locals on the long end.

Phil Kenney had some competition for scoring honors from Kozah of the visitors, but finally came out on top with 18 points while the visiting star tallied 15.

HOUSE BACKS FARM ACT

Measure Would Consider Labor Cost Rise in Parity Figures

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—In the face of threats of a Presidential veto, the House Friday adopted legislation to require the inclusion of increases in farm labor costs since 1909-1914 in determining parity prices for farm products.

Legislation of a similar character has been stoutly opposed in the past by the administration as having an inflationary tendency—former OPA Administrator Leon Henderson estimated it would boost 1943 food prices as high as $3,500,000,000.

The legislation amends the basic farm law by requiring that in determining parity, a price calculated to give farmers a fair return for their efforts, the increase in labor costs since 1909-14 must be considered.

BILL BASKET

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 20 (AP)—Confronted by more than 400 bills introduced in the state house of representatives, Democratic Leader Roy Hamlin finally resorted to carrying his bill book in a market basket.

Kidding fellow legislators daily have dropped small grocery items into the basket. It doesn't bother Hamlin, though.

COLORED SERVICE UNIT OUTLINES ITS PLANS

The Rev. H. H. Hooks, Chairman, Reports On Activities for Enlisted Men in February

The Rev. H. Hollis Hooks, pastor of Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church who recently was appointed chairman of the Colored Service Men's Center on Caleb Earl street by the Newport Defense Recreation Committee, presided at the center's monthly meeting Friday evening. He succeeded the Rev. J. Quinton Jackson, pastor of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, who is soon leaving the city. Mrs. Lillian Trent was elected secretary and Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, treasurer.

Mr. Hooks outlined plans for the spring and summer and praised women volunteers for working faithfully in spite of the lack of equipment and funds. He appointed Henry Cross sports chairman.

During February, 1,500 men were entertained. In the last week, 500 took part in athletic and social activities. The committee will meet again April 14.

MRS. JACOB MIRMAN DIES AFTER YEAR'S ILLNESS

Was Member of Congregation Achim Ladies' Sisterhood, Auxiliary

Mrs. Ida Mirman of 22 Malbono road, wife of the late Jacob Mirman, died today at the Newport Hospital, after a year's illness. She was born in Russia 58 years ago and came to Newport as a girl. She was married here. Her husband, who died in 1939, was in the wholesale provision business.

Mrs. Mirman was active in Congregation Ahavis Achim and belonged to the Ladies Sisterhood and the Ladies Auxiliary of that synagogue. Funeral services will be held at 11 A. M. Sunday in the Braman cemetery.

Surviving are two sons, Dr. Alex Mirmin on duty in England with the army, and Dr. Ralph Mirman of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Ward and Mrs. Edith Ball of this city; five sister, Mrs. Max Friedman of this city and Miss Frances Markman, Mrs. Edward Slone, Mrs. George Hurwitz, Miss Sally Markman and Miss Rose Markman of Hartford, Conn., and two brothers, Joseph Markman of this city and Ben Markman of Hartford.

QUESTIONS PRODUCTION

Soldier Asks "Where Are Supplies, Men?"

PORTLAND, Me., March 20 (AP)—Staff Sergeant Frank B. Boduriha, 3d., stationed at a U. S. army supply base "somewhere in China," would like to know "where the Hell are all the supplies and men you talk about?"

"If the war doesn't end before '44 or '45," the 27-year-old Portland soldier wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Boduriha, 2d., "the only people to blame are those who are supposed to be doing great wonders in the production world."

Staff Sergeant Boduriha has served three months in India and six in China. His duty is to check supplies on arrival from the United States.

TEXTILE WORKERS DROP

Decline in textile orders was reflected in a slight monthly loss of total workers, payrolls, wages and man hours in Rhode Island, William L. Connolly, state director of labor, reported on employment conditions in February. The figures showed 91,006 employes as against 96,614 in February, 1942, in industries covered by the report. Payrolls fell off one per cent from January's, it was reported.

AFTER ALLIED BOMBERS HIT JAPANESE CONVOY

A Japanese transport and merchant vessel burn after gunning and bombing attacks by Allied planes in the Bismarck Sea battle that cost the Japanese a convoy of 22 ships, including 10 warships, and an estimated 15,000 troops. Secretary Knix of the Navy has announced that almost one-third of Japan's entire merchant fleet has been sent to the bottom, but that one-half of this loss has been replaced.

TAX BILL SCORED

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The income tax collection bill submitted to the House by the ways and means committee, which makes pay-as-you-go optional for each taxpayer, was described on the floor Friday by Representative Allen, Republican, Illinois as "a rich man's bill."

"It provides no abatement or concession on taxes for 1942," he said. "It provides that if a taxpayer desires to get on a current basis by paying both 1942 and 1943 taxes during 1943 he is rewarded by being given a varying per cent discount depending upon the time of payment."

Allen contended the Ruml pay-as-you-go plan, which would skip an entire tax year, would not be of principal benefit to the wealthy.

AFL ORGANIZERS PAY UP

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) Approximately 85 AFL organizers—the men who argue for raises for their union membership—have received wage increases themselves ranging from $3 to $9 a week, by unanimous vote of the War Labor Board.

The board Friday applied the "Little Steel" formula to grant the increase, requested by William Green, American Federation of Labor president. They hadn't received a raise since January 1, 1941, and the formula permits a 15 per cent rise in wages in view of increases in the cost of living.

TRINITY SCHOOL HOLDS WEEKLY LENTEN SERVICE

Kenneth W. Cary, Who Will Be Ordained Sunday, Officiates in Kay Chapel

The weekly Lenten service of the Trinity Church school Friday afternoon was conducted in Kay Chapel by Kenneth W. Cary, assistant to the rector of Trinity Church, the Rev. Lauriston L. Scaife. J. Raymond Parker, organist of Trinity, played. A movie, "The Good Samaritan", was shown later in the parish house.

The Rev. Charles F. Ehly, rector of Trinity Church, Buckingham, Pa., who will be the epistoler at the ordination Sunday morning of Kenneth W. Cary, will give the address at evening prayer. He is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cary over the weekend at the parish house.

The Rev. Harold E. Towne, vicar of St. Thomas' Chapel, New York city, who will be the Ntanist at the ordination, will arrive Sunday. He will be the guest of the Rev. Dr. Lauriston L. Scaife, rector of Trinity, and Mrs. Scaife, at the rectory on Gibbs avenue.

"WHISTLING IN DIXIE" ON STRAND BILL

Red Skelton Plays Detective Role; "Journey For Margaret" Co-Feature

"Red" Skelton's newest film, "Whistling in Dixie," is now playing at the Strand Theatre. "Journey for Margaret," starring Robert Young, Laraine Day, "Margaret" O'Brien, Fay Bainter and Nigel Bruce is the co-feature.

"Whistling in Dixie" finds Skelton recreating his familiar detective role of "The Fox." As the super-sleuth, he goes on the trail of a suspected murder which takes him to a small Southern town. An old fort provides the background for his many experiences.

"Red" manages to get mixed up with a crooked sheriff, discovers things that eventually become harmful to him, and solve the mystery.

Ann Rutherford, Guy Kibbee, George Bancroft and Diana Lewis are seen in roles.

"Journey for Margaret" is the story of an Americans newspaper correspondent in London during the blitz.

U-BOAT SINKINGS LISTED

Nazis Report 32 Cargo Ships, Destroyer Sunk in Atlantic

[By The Associated Press]

A DNB despatch broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by The Associated Press declared today that Nazi submarines had sunk 32 cargo ships and a destroyer in the prolonged attack against an eastbound Allied convoy in the Atlantic.

There was no confirmation from Allied sources.

The German despatch described the action as the "greatest and most successful" in the history of U-boat warfare. It said the 32 cargo vessels sunk totaled 201,000 tons.

LOCAL SAILOR GRADUATED

John Edward Rogers, son of Mrs. Catherine A. Rogers, 60 Bedlow avenue, recently was graduated from the Aviation Radio School at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla.

He enlisted in the navy last October 21, and received indoctrinal training here before being transferred to the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Jacksonville. He is now qualified to operate the radio and will probably see service with a naval air unit.

GIRLS BECOME HUMAN BULLETS

Zacchini Sisters Take Places of Brothers in Circus Cannon Act

TAMPA, Fla., March 20 (AP) — Everywhere now women are stepping into the jobs of men, so the Zacchini girls—Duina and Egle—have become the human bullets for the Zacchini cannon act.

They are the daughters of Edmondo, eldest of the seven Zacchini cannon brothers. All the other brothers, including Emanuel, Mario and Vittorio, who used to be the human bullets for the act, have gone into war work so the 49-year-old Edmondo and his family are carrying on.

Only Egle left with her father at the start of their tour recently, Duina remaining to finish her term at Plant High School before joining the family in Chicago. Edmondo's son, Egizio, 19, went along as a spare "bullet" in case Egle gets hurt, but he won't be able to stay long for he has an early date with the army.

Duina was a trapeze performer with Egizio before their catcher was called into the army. Egle, too, has passed her apprenticeship and recently returned from a tour as a high wire artist.

The big cannon was re-built inside so the girls would fit snugly into the barrel, with no room to spare for swaying. Otherwise the shock of expulsion, which throws them high into the air, and into a net nearly 200 feet away, would tear them apart.

The girls practiced here for weeks in preparation for their debut as human bullets and Duina made more than 200 jumps before the net left. Edmondo, who served with the Italian army in the first World war when Italy was on the Allied side, was crippled by the cannon and is unable to do war work, but still is able to act as "trigger man."

DEPENDENT DEFERMENT

House Group Clears For Action On Draft Priorities

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Over War Department opposition the rules committee has cleared for House action legislation to give draft deferment priorities to men with dependents and to put draft quotas on a state wide instead of a local board basis.

The committee's action was taken in executive session after Representative Kilday, Democrat Texas, author of the bill, contended there was no merit in the War Department's objections.

Secretary of War Stimson had complained that the measure would create administrative impossibilities for the Selective Service system.

WOULD EXTEND CONTRACT

Northern Operators Urge Agreement Until April 30

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Northern Appalachian soft coal mine operators have proposed that negotiations for a contract for 450,000 miners to replace the one expiring March 31 be extended and that the present agreement be kept in effect until April 30.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the Northern operators, said that the operators voted in favor of the proposal and the miners against it.

Representatives of the Northern and Southern operators have been meeting with union officials in separate sessions.

The conference this morning between the sub-committees of the Southern producers and the UMW adjourned until 2 P. M., (Eastern War Time) without reaching any conclusions on major points, and a source close to the operators' representatives said the conference might break up today in disagreement.

TRACTOR TIRE RECAPPING

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Tires on farm tractors and implements must be re-capped hereafter with reclaimed rubber if in condition for re-capping.

The Office of Price Administration ordered this change Friday and modified previous arrangements by which rear wheel tractor tires did not have to be re-capped but could be replaced by new tires. Implement tires formerly could be re-capped with a material made largely of crude rubber.

NELSON ON PRODUCTION

Chairman Sees Need Of Some Civilian Items

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, said Friday some civilian items whose production has been halted "for the duration" would be brought back into production to supply essential civilian needs.

Household refrigerators probably will be among the items, Nelson told a press conference, because the food shortage demands additional refrigeration facilities. The War Production Board is reviewing the whole field of consumer goods with manufacturers and sellers, he added, to learn which other items are most urgently needed.

As part of its program, WPB expects to strengthen its office of civilian supply and make it "a strong claimant for the needs of the civilian economy", Nelson said.

Described as untrue, however, reports that WPB had offered the directorship of the civilian supply office either to Willard Thorp, trustee of the Associated Gas and Electric Company, or Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

KEROSENE BAN OFF

BOSTON, March 20 (AP)—Emergency restrictions on the delivery of kerosene have been lifted by Kenneth B. Backman, regional OPA administrator. He said, however, that dealers and suppliers had been asked to make their stocks go as far and to as many users as possible.

MADELINE CARROLL AIDS SEAMEN

Her United Service Day Far Removed from Hollywood Star Program

[Written for The Associated Press by Adelaide Kerr]

Madeleine Carroll poured the milk into the saucepan as the snow fell through the darkness beyond the kitchen window. Watched the milk scald as the clock ticked 2 A. M. Sat down and sipped it—alone in the kitchen—as she thoughtfully reviewed her day.

A day far removed from her program as a Hollywood movie star. No cameras, klieg lights or fans in sight.

But work. And plenty of it. Work as special representative of the United Seaman's Service (the USO of the Merchant Marine). Morning meeting with a group of girls who wished to make a donation. A bout with the mail at the New York office. Speech at the Town Hall Club. Appearance on her CBS daily radio program — "Madeleine Carroll Reads." Dinner on the run. And an evening as hostess at the American Theatre Wing Merchant Marine Canteen.

At the end of the day no household of servants to pamper a prima donna. No deft French maid to dab cologne on that famous "marble brow."

Instead, a commuter's train to Connecticut, caught on the run after midnight. And hot milk alone in the kitchen—at 2 A. M.

"Is this a glamor life?" Madeleine Carroll asked herself.

For the woman once known as filmdom's most beautiful blonde —still pretty as a gold and ivory picture—says she has "completely given up the movies". And that means giving up the trappings and glamor that surround a throne.

Madeleine Carroll, born in England of a French mother and an Irish father, queened it in Hollywood for years, after she joined the American colony in 1934.

After seven successful years she left Hollywood in January, 1941. Six months later she married Sterling Hayden, sailor and blond leading man of the movies. Now, while her husband serves in the United States Marine Corps, she lives in Norwalk, Conn., with her mother-in-law and shuttles back and forth to New York for her daily radio program and her work for the United Seaman's Service.

"My sister was killed in the London blitz a little more than a year ago," she told me. "Since then I have felt there was only one thing of importance—helping to win this war. I'm concerned about what is happening in France; my mother's people are there and 200 orphans I adopted are in my house in Paris.

"The job I have came about quite naturally. Before my husband joined the marines, he carried government cargoes from Florida to the West Indies in his schooner. I did his shore business and wound up his affairs for him after he entered service. In this connection I met Admiral Land, head of the Maritime Commission, and when I asked him what I could do in the war effort, he asked me to help with the United Seamen's Service.

"I was glad to do it. I have sailed with my husband and I know how seamen are treated in port and how few places there are for them to stay. Some hotels have signs 'No dogs or seamen allowed.' The United Seamen's Service has established headquarters for them in several United States' ports and our aim is to establish similar headquarters in every seaport in the world where American seamen go. My job is to get recognition and sympathy for the seamen. After all, if we don't have them, we've lost the war."

HEBREW SCHOOL TO GIVE PURIM PARTY, PLAY

Religious Services, Social Events for Servicemen Will Mark Feast of Lots

A Purim party and play will be given by the United Hebrew School in the Jewish Community Center Sunday at 3 P. M. under the direction of Rabbi Morris A. Gutstein.

Purim, or the Feast of Lots, commemorates the day when Mordecai and Queen Esther saved the Jews of Persia from extermination as planned by Haman. The story is told in the book of Esther of the Bible, and is read from a parchment scroll at the synagogues on the festival.

Commencing with services in Touro Synagogue at 7 P. M. today, a program of religious services and social events for the men in uniform has been arranged.

Following the religious services, there will be a dance in the center. For service men who can travel out of town, the Jewish Welfare Board of Fall River has extended an invitation to attend the opening today of the Kavodinn Club at 311 Park street, at 7 P. M. A Purim dinner will be followed by music and dancing.

Religious services here Sunday will be held at the Naval Training Station, Touro Synagogue and Fort Wetherill in Jamestown. Monday, services will be held at Fort Adams and on Tuesday at Fort Wetherill.

There will be Purim socials at the Training Station and the center Sunday, at Fort Adams Monday and at Fort Wetherill Tuesday. Thursday, there will be a dance at the center.

PRESCOTT FOUND GUILTY IN SECOND DEGREE

Defense Counsel Ask New Trial For Soldier

Have Seven Days to File Pleas; Murder Trial Jury Reports in 50 Minutes

Private First Class Howard Norman Prescott, 29, of Camp Edwards, Mass., today faced possible sentence ranging from 10 years to life imprisonment as the result of being found guilty in the second degree of the murder of Mrs. Avis Macomber, 19, a Park-Holm housemaid, the night of January 31.

After a jury consisting of seven women and five men returned its verdict following 50 minutes of deliberation, Benjamin Cianciarulo and Aram A. Arnbian, defense counsel, asked for a new trial and were given seven days to file pleas. At their request, the jury was polled after Alfred H. Pierce of Portsmouth, foreman, had given verdict.

Prescott, who wet his lips frequently while the jury was being seated, stared at them for some time after the verdict had been announced, then dropped his head and gazed at his clasped hands. Later, he was taken downstairs. Sheriff Robert H. Chappell said he would be taken to Providence County jail this morning.

When the verdict was announced, Mrs. Evelyn Prescott, wife of defendant, and his brother, Clarence, sat tensely in the front row of the spectators seats in the court room. Prescott did not look in their direction as he left the room.

Begun Tuesday, the case was given to the jurors at 2:55 Friday afternoon and about 50 minutes later word came that they had reached a verdict. John Pastore, assistant attorney general, and defense counsel and various officials were quickly summoned and with Judge Walter Curry on the bench the verdict was submitted. Mr. Cianciarulo immediately asked that the jury be polled. As each juror's name was read, he or she arose and said, "Guilty in the second degree." Prescott's eyes followed from juror to juror as the names were called.

Before excusing them until Monday morning, Judge Curry thanked the jury that had heard the lanky, six-foot-four soldier from Dexter, Me., insist under the assistant attorney general's cross examination that he remembered nothing of what happened at 227 Park-Holm the night of Mrs. Macomber's death from the time his .32 calibre hunting rifle was discharged until the police clamped handcuffs on him.

At the close of the cross-examination, Prescott showed more emotion than at any other time in the trial, when Mr. Pastore asked him if he denied that while Mrs. Macomber was lying on the bed, he pointed the rifle at her and fired the shot that killed her.

"I do deny that," exclaimed Prescott, gripping the witness stand, and thrusting his head and upper part of his body out over the stand in the direction of his questioner.

In his argument for the state, Mr. Pastore said the real story did not start until January 31. You have only the defendant's word for it, he said, that Avis Macomber is a good shot. The Newpot police force, he continued, needs no defense. Its members have no personal interest in this case, yet defendant's counsel would have you believe defendant has been framed. Fingerprints in this case, Mr. Pastore argued, would prove nothing, because both parties handled the gun.

Prescott, Mr. Pastore continued, has a remarkable memory for unimportant matters, but does not remember any essential details. What Prescott infers Mrs. Macomber did after the first shot is ridiculous, Mr. Pastore said. If the shot made Prescott faint, how would it have affected the girl? he asked.

Judge Curry, in charging the jury, said you will find him guilty only if you reach an abiding conviction to a moral certainty that he did commit the crime. If you find that there were any threats, promises, or inducements to get Prescott to sign the statement, he pointed out, you will wholly disregard it. Prescott has told you he was able to walk, act and think clearly on that evening. Judge Curry said, adding drunkenness can relieve of responsibility only if it renders a person incapable of acting and thinking rationally.

Homicide, he explained, is not a crime when death results from self defense, saying if Avis Macomber pointed a loaded gun at Prescott, he had a right to try to take it from her. If the shot that killed her was made under these circumstances, Prescott is innocent, Judge Curry said.

First degree murder, he explained, is that resulting from wilful premeditation, a design and determination to kill formed an appreciable, but not necessarily a long time, before the act is committed, all other murder being of second degree.

The two alternate jurors who sat through the trial were discharged before the jury of 12 retired.

PROVIDENCE MAN GETS DEFERRED SENTENCE

Roland Bordreau Charged With Intent to Defraud Local Business Men

Roland Bordreau, of Waverly street, Providence, was put on deferred sentence by Judge Walter Curry in the superior court Friday afternoon when he was arraigned on a charge of intent to defraud by passing worthless checks, one for $30 on Potter and Company, and the other for $12 on the George G. Popple Shoe Company. Bordreau pleaded nolo and personal recognizance was set at $1,000.

When the matter was heard by Judge Arthur J. Sullivan in the district court, Bordreau was bound over to the grand jury, but he waived grand jury action for the arraignment. Assistant Attorney General John O. Pastore said Bordreau has a long record, has served nine months in Providence County jail. It is understood he is now wanted in Wickford on similar charges. Benjamin Cianciarulo, public defender, represented Bordreau.

STATE TO REFINISH ILLEGIBLE AUTO PLATES

To Charge One Dollar to Those Who Wish to Retain Same Numbers

The state registry of motor vehicles plans to refinish or replace motorists number plates that have become illegible from exposure to weather or accident, Wilfred J. Paquin, registrar, has announced. He said those who wish to keep their present plates will be charged $1 for refinishing them but those accepting another number may have them without charge.

Duplicate 1942 plates, which ordinarily would have been issued last year for the front of cars, have been kept, repainted, the 1942 date obliterated, so they can be re-issued next year to replace present plates. He said it is hoped the present plates can be turned in by motorists in 1944 for possible future use after refinishing, provided the war is not ended by 1945.

NEWPORTER'S BROTHER REPORTED MISSING

Peter S. Govertsen Was An Engineer in Merchant Marine Service

Peter Sigurd Govertsen, brother of E. G. Govertsen of 39 Sims Street, a member of the Coast Guard, is "missing following action in the performance of his duty and in the service of his country", according to a telegram from Vice Admiral R. R. Waesche Wednesday.

Govertsen was for years an engineer in the Merchant Marine. He was born in Kristiansand, Norway, November 10, 1904, and went to sea immediately after completing high school in his native land. He came to the United States in 1923, attended high school in Jersey City, and Brooklyn, N. Y., and was graduated from Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, in 1932. He has been in the Merchant Marine since then.

JAMESTOWN RED CROSS FUND GOES OVER TOP

Chapter Becomes First In State to Pass Its Quota

Gifts By Armed Forces In Nearby Areas Boost Total; Donors Listed

Jamestown Chapter, American Red Cross became the first in Rhode Island to go over the top in the current War Fund drive, it was announced Friday evening. Assigned a quota of $2,800, the chapter, the smallest in Rhode Island, now has $3,025.48 in hand, with additional returns coming in, Mrs. William W. Weeden, general chairman, announced.

Gifts by the armed forces stationed at Jamestown had an important part in putting the drive over in two thirds, the allotted time, Mrs. Weeden said. The 243d Coast Artillery, officers and personnel, gave a total of $676.98, while naval personnel on the island gave $128.80, for a total of $805.78. Previously, gifts of $151.80 had been reported from this source, for a grand total of $957.58.

Mrs. Weeden announced that contributions will be accepted through March 31 because the chapter wants to exceed its quota as much as possible. All the money raised can be used for the far-flung activities of the Red Cross, Mrs. Weeden said.

Captains, solicitors, the townspeople, summer residents, and the personnel of the armed forces came in for praise by the drive chairman for their gifts.

"It is very gratifying that the response has been so widespread," Mrs. Weeden says. "It shows that Jamestown people are aware of the need of serving the armed forces on the firing line and at home."

These additional contributions were reported:

$25—Jamestown fire department.

$5—Dr. C. B. Ceppi, Jane B. Ceppi, Gene Cleansing Company, Silvia's Bar, St. Mark's Rectory, and St. Matthew's Guild.

OLD MEAT HOUSE TO CLOSE

Announcing that OPA meat regulations were the cause, John E. Saugy, president of Augustus Saugy, Inc., 80-year-old wholesale meat house, made known Friday that the firm will close for business next week. He charged the regulations were written "with the expense purpose of squeezing out the wholesaler and the jobber."

Mr. Saugy said "they're succeeding in their purpose, because with the closing of our doors next Saturday, at least half the meat wholesalers and jobbers in Providence will have been forced out of business."

FINANCE GROUP FORMS

Organization of the Rhode Island War Finance Committee has been completed with the appointment of Ernest Clayton, president of the Industrial Trust Company, and Frank S. Shy, president of W. P. Hamblin, Inc., of Providence. They will serve with Roderick Firnie, G. Burton Hibbert and Godfrey B. Simonds, previously named. They will have charge of the state's part in the Treasury's 13 billion dollar loan opening April 12.
